ABOUT

I am a Pre-final year undergraduate student actively seeking internship/Job opportunities so as to explore and expand on my technical knowledge as well as sincerely contribute to what is expected of me.

My main areas of technical interest lie in Data Analysis, Data Science, Machine Learning.

I have worked on a few mini projects on my own, other than that I like to contribute to open-source projects.

Apart from my technical abilities and interests, I am an avid reader and occasionally a Singer, and I enjoy playing Guitar.

I'm grateful for these years. GGPS, Bokaro was where I learned how to articulate my ideas (as head of the school Debate Team). Competed several times in Inter college championships, fell in love with learning. Facilitated service events for the local community, designed a leadership development program for underclassmen, and discovered a passion for the arts. And importantly, it was at GGPS, Bokaro where I felt like I could finally be my weird self.
